

The Great TechPP

Crossword - Episode

1

by Nimish Dubey & Akriti Rana

ACROSS

- 1 Nature calling? Want to answer but have no room to take the call? There's an app for that loo...er...too.
- 3 Type on it. Write on it. Write on paper. It accepts them all. What a true Yogi this one is.
- 7 They are such a reliable name that a lot of reliance was placed on them by people who relied on them to disrupt the Indian telecom market. You bet they did.
- 10 They just wanted to sell ten thousand phones when they arrived in India in 2014. Oh me, oh my!
- 12 "To shave or not to shave" was the question this brand's co-founder was asking on Twitter.
- 13 The Land of Gold. Oh yes, and also a phone brand.
- 14 He ain't Beethoven, but he performed at Opera and is now composing Vivaldi.

DOWN

- 2 I may sound censorious, buddy, but I am the one that switches off the display when you put your phone to your face for a call.
- 4 What is measured using f-stops
- 5 It is easily the most peaceful sounding phone interface around, never mind the fact that some find it too cluttered and confusing.
- 6 If you are giving me a OnePlus 3, it doesn't matter if you are black or white. Sure, but what about...well, grey?
- 8 Eat your heart out, iPhone. I got both jet black and black on my back. Hah! and I am the stuff of which displays are made too.
- 9 The new touch on the MacBook Pro. And yes, we were so wrong about calling it a stunt.
- 11 Forget Nougat, we are waiting to literally get our hands on an update to this version of Android, and are growing weary too.

